VOLUME 1 — LEMON GROVE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1948 — NUMBER 10

Pertinent Paragraphs

Now we can tell you that we did not tell you so — and unlike so many others didn't even predict that the winner would lose. As announced in the first issue of this newspaper a little less than three months ago, no attempt will ever be made to instruct in the matter of voting for political candidates or issues that do not directly affect the everyday lives of a large number of the citizens of our town.

We could go on with this indefinitely, but suffice it to say that we believe that the person who votes as he is told, by newspapers, or anyone or anything else, should go back to school for a few years. At least long enough to study a little history.

Speaking of 'our town,' have you noticed the growth, day by day? Believe there are three, possibly more, announcements of new businesses, either coming, or opening their doors this week.

Our hats are off to these individuals who come here to share their faith and funds. Can't lose. That brings the total above 12 since the Review first started appearing at over 2600 homes here just ten short weeks ago.

We say 'can't lose.' A run down on the thoughts back of that gives the following: Best climate in the world — location very close to everything in the line of scenery, hunting, vacationing — and very, very, very close to the best in entertainment, schools and churches and lastly, but not leastly, stores, clean, progressive, where one may shop easily and leisurely. If no money is saved above the prices in San Diego and La Mesa (it often is) at least the doubtful honor of coughing up pennies (which not only make, but run into dollars) for those cute little parking meters. Let's not mention the city sales taxes We lose control when we go into that subject. Oh well, mayhaps they're just temporary measures like the state's sale tax, recollect?

Let's take up a few personalities — Byron Netzley, a busy but a smiling man, the members of the school board, all happy over last weeks election — money to furnish new school rooms — wonder if the youngsters are smiling and happy over the prospect of full daily sessions — Doc Weege . . . . not only at Lions does he hop all over the place — see him at the picnic? And still retrospecting — must have been better than a Dewey speech, the one Dan Apra made before the business men, still getting complimentary reports — and twas at same luncheon that Frank Higgins mistook vinegar for syrup — and seen eating at DeVicos: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duley, Mrs. Amy Sonka, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pearce and a guest.

A tip — see next weeks Review for dope on subscribing. As you know, practically everyone is getting it free and the paid subscribers' subscriptions haven't gone into effect yet. Well something's gonna happen. Possibly next week but no later than the following one.

For want of a joke — we drag this out. We're gonna talk with Mac at the Avalon and Andy (oil) Anderson about it. Seems that an opening is available for agency to secure rights for selling the most popular sportsman's scales. Understand, there's no insinuation or hidden meaning to this. Nothing personal. We'd just like to get an idea on the number of fishermen around so that we might know how many possibilities for sales there are. We understand that once a fisherman uses this scale, he will use no other kind. They're called the Ambush scales. They lie in weight. That's all.

Our nature is inseparable from desires, and the very word desire [illegible] craving for something not [illegible]—implies that our pres[illegible] is not complete.

Fine Program To Inaugurate Ladies Night

Thursday evening, November 11, is scheduled to go down in the history of the Lions club of Lemon Grove as one of the finest spent by members of that organization.

That date marks the first ladies night to be held by the local Lions club.

According to President Andy Benson, chairman of the evening George Dickinson has devoted considerable time and effort in getting a program lined up that will find high favor with the 'Lady Lions.'

Rev. "Kit" Carson of Coronado will be the speaker of the evening, Art Chappelle will present a group of accordion solos and a vocalist is also being secured.

The president of the Coronado Lions club will be a guest at the affair.

The meeting will be held at the VFW hall where the VFW ladies will serve a dinner.

Mr. A Boese is in charge of decorations, and Dr. Frank Weege will have charge of the musical program. Around a hundred are expected to enjoy this outstanding Lions social event.

Did Goblin Leave Bench at Your House?

If you awakened Halloween morning or the morning following and noticed a green bench in your front or back yard, on the fence or the back porch or on the roof, Ray Adlfinger of the Shopping Center urges you to climb up and take a closer scrutiny. If the lettering "If we forget to thank you, you may have your purchase free" appears, then it belongs to the Shopping Center. A telephone call will not only bring their gratitude, but will also bring a man and a vehicle who will gladly retrieve it.

These benches which are located at numerous bus stops and corners in and around Lemon Grove, have in the past been a happy sight for waiting commuters. Complaints of their absence started coming in the day after Halloween, Mr. Adlfinger reports.

Help Needed in The Organizing of Girl Scout Troops

Mrs. F. P. Krause is still hard at work organizing Brownie and Girl Scout Troops at St. John of the Cross Catholic School. She is the leader of the fifth and sixth grade Girl Scouts, and would be happy to have a volunteer mother to act as her co-leader.

The Brownie Troop is in need of both a leader and co-leader. And Mrs. Krause needs committee mothers to help carry on the projects. The girls are meeting Mondays at present, but that could be changed to the convenience of new leaders and co-leaders.

Mrs. C. F. Baxter assisted Mrs. Krause with the meetings this week.

HAM DINNER BENEFIT OF SOCIAL HALL

Wednesday, November 10 from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church will serve a 'Sweet Ham Dinner' to which the public is most cordially invited. This dinner will be served at the Church and proceeds will be used for the immediate needs of the new social hall.

NEXT WEEK IS AMERICAN EDUCATION WK.

Strengthening the Foundations of Freedom is the concern of all of us and is the theme of this year's observance of American Education Week. Daily themes are: Sunday, "Learning to Live Together"; Monday, "Improving the Educational Program"; Tuesday, "Securing Qualified Teachers"; Wednesday, "Providing Adequate Finance"; Thursday, "Safeguarding Our America"; Friday, "Promoting Health and Safety"; Saturday, "Developing Worthy Family Life."

Organizations wishing to participate in American Education Week by having student speakers or entertainers as guests at their meetings during the week of November 8 to 12, are urged to contact the school.

Good citizenship is being built in the schools of Lemon Grove, through teaching the values, rights and duties of living in a democracy.

In addition to learning fundamental skills, other essential knowledge, ability and attitudes need to be developed for good citizenship. So pupils practice, in their school programs, democratic ways of meeting life problems.

The community - centered school recognizes that learning to live together starts in home and school and extends from there to the entire community. In the classroom children learn to become responsible members of their groups and each child has the opportunity to achieve successfully in one way or another so that he can have the satisfaction of contributing to the group accomplishments.

Money spent for education yields returns to the community and nation. Money spent to counteract the results of inadequate education — illiteracy, juvenile delinquency, crime, disease and incompetent citizenship is money wasted because it could have been saved. A dollar spent on education now will save many dollars in the future.

An intelligent citizenry is America's best safeguard. Through learning and practicing the democratic way of life in our public schools, our children develop the ability to recognize and meet problems of living. They learn to work with others, they build up personal resources for wholesome use of leisure time, they study the American heritage, they become healthy and well adjusted mature individuals.

IMPORTANT MEETING FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Mrs. J. A. Van Gilse, general chairman of the coming dinner to be held in the Forward Club House by the County Development Federation,has announced a committee meeting to be held at her home Monday evening November 8. at 7:30 p. m.

All committee chairmen and their members are urged to be present to make final plans for the affair.

In Lemon Grove there are no parking meters or city sales tax.

More Voted Tuesday Than Total Last Two Elections

More people voted in Lemon Grove Tuesday than in the last two general elections combined, according to figures received from the office of the Registrar of Voters.

In 1944, 1325 votes were cast; 1223 in 1946, and Tuesday no fewer than 3195 voted in one of the most hotly contested elections in history; an election which still has the pollsters scratching their heads in wonder.

The results here followed the National trend, Democratic all the way. The Truman-Barkley ticket received 1578 votes, while Dewey and Warren totaled 1503, a bare majority of 75 votes. Wallace received 105 votes; Watson 14 and Thomas had two write-in votes.

In the congressional race, however, the Democratic candidate won by a comfortable majority of 675 votes; for McKinnon, 1890 for Fletcher, 1215, according to unofficial returns. Steinmetz finished with 28 votes.

The following tabulations do not include Vista La Mesa, whose votes came in late.

Crane defeated Cramer, 1458 to 1167 while Luckel received 1 write-in vote in the contest for Member of the Assembly, 80th District.

On the County Propositions the results were as follows: "A" to take the judiciary out of politics: yes, 1100; no, 1211. "B" probation amendment: yes, 1526; no, 600. "C" amendment to enlarge probation officer's duties: yes, 1595; no, 621. "D" Hall of Justice: yes, 1300; no, 1121. "E" Juvenile Hall Center: yes, 1568; no, 880.

Some of the State Propositions where unofficial results were obtainable, showed the Veterans tax exemption, Proposition "1" being defeated in Lemon Grove: yes, 1052; no, 1527. "2" liquor control: yes, 698; no, 1911. "3" featherbedding: yes, 1193; no, 1247. "4" aged and blind aid: yes, 1309; no, 1325. "5" compensation of legislators: yes, 976; no, 1427.

"6" Regulation of commercial fishing: yes, 787; no, 1620. "12" liquor control: yes, 769; no, 1854. "13" Senate reapportionment: yes, 695; no, 1649. "14" housing: yes, 652; no, 1810. "15" fish nets: yes, 793; no, 1524.

"18" State payment of tax exemptions: yes, 1147; no, 1108. "19" Fish and Game Commission: yes, 1693; no, 560.

Only three State Propositions seem to be close; first the featherbedding proposition, "3", where the 'no' vote is leading by 54. The aid to the needy aged and blind, proposition "4" is defeated in the Lemon Grove results by 16 votes, really close. The proposition to have the State pay back veterans' exemptions in taxes is being carried in the Grove by a slim 39 vote lead.

Lemon Grove Pioneer Is Taken by Death

Dr. Frederick P. White, a resident of Lemon Grove for more than 45 years passed away Friday morning, October 29, at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium, at the age of 84. He had been suffering for the past year from illness brought on by old age, and died a week after entering the Sanitarium.

Dr. White, who resided at 8028 Lincoln Avenue, came to Lemon Grove in January 1901. He was born in Blandville, Kentucky, in 1864 and when only six years of age lost all of his immediate family, who were stricken with trichnosis. A minister adopted him and sent him to medical school at Clinton College which was founded by the minister.

After practicing medicine for 13 years, he developed asthma and came to California for his health. He did not practice medicine in California, but assisted many needy people with his knowledge and skill free of charge.

His health regained, he became a rancher and among his memories were those of Lemon Grove when he arrived. His wife recalls that there were Indians living on the Waite place, and on one occasion when she refused to feed one who was begging for a meal, he grabbed an axe and frightened her, but he dropped it and fled when she ordered him to do so.

Dr. White, together with Senator Ed. Fletcher, Edith (Silvas) Denlinger, Leon Bond, the Wests and Livesays were members of the first country club formed by the Doctor and Fletcher.

Besides his wife, Dr. White is survived by a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Floyd, who will now make her home here with Mrs. White; a son, Chester, of Escondido; H. L. White of Lemon Grove; five grand-children and one great-grand-child.

Dr. and Mrs. White were active memberes of the Seventh Day Adventist Church here since 1913. Services were held at the Ericson-Anderson Mortuary in La Mesa and interment was at Hope Cemetery.

PTA Carnival Successfu As Usual

The P. T. A. treasurer, Mrs. Marian Batchelder, reports the gross receipts from the Hallowe'en Carnival Saturday evening were $574.80. A fine crowd was in attendance with everyone having a good time.

Many comic book and story book characters were represented. There was Mary's Little Lamb, Red Riding Hood, Sadie Hawkins, a Mechanical Man, many Gypsies, Bandits, Weary Willies, and others, too numerous to mention.

The Lemon Grove Band and Majorettes led the procession with a very creditable performance. Some tiny contestants could not keep up and dropped out after two rounds.

The school yard was hardly recognizable, as so many booths had been constructed, and almost every youth organization was selling something.

The Forward Club Juniors had a huge Fun House; one could buy hot dogs, hamburgers, Tacos, chili beans pie, cake, coffee, etc.

Booths for selling home canned foods, home made fancy work, white elephants, pop corn, fish pond, beautiful plants, balloons, etc, were doing a brisk business.

LET'S DISCUSS IT

by Mrs. Agnes Whitlock

Women- Opportunity is knocking at your door. The Scouts are seeking new leaders and sponsors at this time. Have you considered the fun, the interest, and the prestige you would enjoy as a Scout leader? Not only are you enjoying yourself but you are doing something for the Youth of America. In Scouts you are helping to mold the character of the future leaders of your community or maybe of your country.

Scouts provide wide and varied fields of interests to both the leaders and Scouts. Some of the subjects presented are: Arts and Crafts, Literature and Dramatics, Music and Dancing, Nature, Outdoor Sports, Games, Agriculture, Community Life, International Friendship, Health and Safety and Homemaking.

If you feel that you are not qualified, there is a training program for leaders. This program has proven to be entertaining as well as instructive.

CAMP FIRE GROUP PLANS BREAKFAST FOR MOTHERS

The OT YO KWA group of seventh grade Camp Fire Girls plan a breakfast for 9:30 Monday morning, November 8, with their mothers as guests.

The affair will be held in the basement of the Community Congregational Church and will celebrate their annual "Better Breakfasts Week" during which the girls have studied planning and preparation of breakfasts.

Leaders of this group are Mrs. Genevieve Porter and Mrs. Mildred McGee.

The Scouts Aim and the benefits the girls receive are well known to those who work with them. They also realize that the Scouts' Ideals reach far beyond the individual and on into the civic life in which they ultimately find their place.

Leaders meet with their troops one day a week. A Leaders' Meeting is held every third Monday of the month, in the school cafeteria.

One of the most prominent Scout members of this district is Mrs. G. L. Dickerhoff. She is in charge of Arts and Crafts, and is consultant worker with all troops. In addition to this, she has also organized a Uniform Exchange for the Lemon Grove group. The Exchange takes care of the uniforms that are out grown or that are turned in for some other reason. These uniforms are resold, exchanged or in some cases, given a Scout who's family is unable to purchase it.

This Uniform Exchange is an example of how an idea can be put to practical use. It has taken a lot of time and pertinaciousness on the part of Mrs. Dickerhoff to accomplish all of these things.

Here is a list of the leaders in the Lemon Grove district; Mmes. C. F. Baxter, Chas. L. Archer, H. E. Austin, M. L. Seddons, Guy Winton, J. Kish, L. McIntosh, F. Bunch, L. Phillips, H. Fisher, W. Torgerson, I. B. Burkett, E. Grause, F. Lewis, J. Beyer, Pickens, Austin, Tsongas and Hoover.

If you wish additional information, the following officers will be glad to help you: Mrs. J. Hogan, 4015 Violet, Vista La Mesa; Mrs. R. C. Pfister, 4038 Massachusetts, Vista La Mesa; Mrs. B. Maxson, 4027 Marian, Vista La Mesa, and Mrs. F. Greenlee, 8427 Golden Avenue, Lemon Grove.

Sponsorship is also an important factor in Scout work. The local organizations are asked to consider carefully the responsibilities assumed as sponsors. They are also asked to remember that these responsibilities are not compulsory, but are on a voluntary basis. Moral suport is the principal aim of sponsorship.

The following are the present sponsors:

Lemon Grove Forward Club.
Vista La Mesa Women's Club.
Monterey Heights Civic Organization.
Business Women's League.
St. John of the Cross Church.
Vista La Mesa Christian Church.
Lemon Grove P. T. A.

The amount of juvenile delinquency in the community is alarming. The need for Scouting and leadership in Scouting is urgent. Stand behind the children by sponsoring the Youth Organizations.

This poem was written by a San Diego woman, Mrs. Stanley Roberts of 3628 51st. Need I say she's a scouter.

"TO MY HUSBAND"

No aroma from the kitchen,
As he steps into the hall.
No gay, "Hello," nor wifely kiss,
In fact, no one at all.

The house is in a clutter.
He stumbles o'er a bike,
Then-n-n the realization
That "Mother's on a hike."

Little had he realized
When they tied that marriage loop
That not only wife he'd wed,
But a whole Girl Scout troop.

He knows the tasks before him,
As he quietly shuts the door.
Such domestic interruptions
Have happened oft before.
Iodine, gauze and bandage,
Are upon the table laid,
As he makes his preparations
To administer First Aid.
Liniment for the swollen joints,
Aspirin for the head,
Hot water for the poor tired feet
And then "off to bed."
A tender kiss upon her brow,
He gently holds her hand.
You see, he is a Scouter too,
That's why he understands.

NOT INTENTIONAL

During a railroad emegency, a volunteer engineer performed the remarkable feat of bringing the train in 25 minutes ahead of time. The passengers went forward in a body to thank him.

A pale-faced man came down from the cab. "Don't thank me," he gasped. "I just found out five minutes ago how to stop this thing."

LOOKIN' AT THE GROVE

by John A. Van Gilse

Last year we lauded the Parent Teacher Association of the Lemon Grove School for the fine Halowe'en Carnival. We'll have to do it again this year, but gladly, for Saturday night's affair was certainly a true success.

Frankly, it is hard to believe that some 800 Grove children will don original costumes and parade and compete for prizes. The adults of this sector who missed the "costume parade" certainly missed something. The kids certainly enjoyed the event as they always do and this carnival could well become the largest single event of the school year.

As is the usual case, there are the unknown workers behind the scenes who give of their time and talents in building and decorating the many fine booths. We must ot forget the merchants must not forget the merchants who donated the many prizes, the ladies who manned the booths, donated the candy, grab bag prizes, the home-made candy, cakes and cookies. Yes, there are many many people who did plenty of work unsung and unheralded to make the event such a success.

Mrs. J. Gilbert Durham, P. T. A. president, certainly made a wise choice when she appointed Mrs. Wayne Hedge, general chairman. Mrs. Hedge did a fine organizational task aided by last year's P. T. A. president, Mrs. I. B. Burkett. Good old "Mac" McGee slaved many hours getting the many prizes from the local merchants to make the costume parade awards. McGee also worked long and hard as master of ceremonies and later in such things as the talent show and pie-eating contests.

Wonder how many of you would have enjoyed picking a handful of winners out of a mere 700 or 800 entries in the parade Comments all around me were to the effect that "I'd hate to have to pick the best costumes, they are all so good." Which means that the judges, Johnny Hill, Paul Duley, and Brent Payne did an exceptional job for their ultimate decisions seemed to meet general approval. . . Just the same, I'm glad they had to pick them, and not me. . There were so many fine costumes. . .

Sunday morning after the carnival I went to the school grounds to get the table we had loaned one of the booths. Much to my surprise, the table was nearly the only thing left as a reminder of the night before. . . The good old "unsung, unheralded" workers who built the booths and decorations had slipped away after taking them apart. Abraham Lincoln once said, "God must have loved the common people, for he made so many of them" — which reminds me, "Lemon Grove has a few unsung, unheralded workers, God Bless them all."

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts, therefore guard accordingly; and take care that you entertain no notions unsuitable to virtue and reasonable nature.

Milner - Doolin Rites Held Monday

Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. Miss Roylene Milner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milner of 8034 Imperial Avenue, became the bride of Mr. Frank C. Doolin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doolin of Trenton, Missouri.

The Community Congregational Church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthesmums for the event, with the pastor, Rev. Dan Apra, performing the ceremony.

The Bride's brother, Harold Milner, was soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. A. W. Thomas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with a finger-tip veil held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and chrysanthemums.

Urging Collections Of Food Now

Urban California can help displaced persons of Europe get additional much-needed food, as the Marshall Plan cannot help these persons since they are not citizens of countries cooperating under this plan.

The San Diego Council of Churches is urging contributions, appropriately called 'Thank-offerings, of dried fruits, dried that have been bought in cans, condensed canned milk, etc., to be brought to the Churches, Sunday Schools and public schools by November 21, so that the goal of 150 carloads of foodstuffs from California may be reached and the cars dedicated and started on their way on Thanksgiving Day.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge one for yourself. —Froude

SCHOOL NEWS

On Thursday, October 28, 1948, Mr. Goodall's class went to Jensen's Bird Farm. We saw some lovely peacocks and Mr. Jensen's Bird Farm. We saw some lovely peeacocks and Mr. Jensen had some pheasants worth $200.00. He showed us some of the bleeding-hearts he had. They were all white with a red spot right over their hearts.

He had a lot of ducks and geese and there was one goat and about 100 or more pigeons. Mr. Jensen had three small terrier dogs that were very cute.

But the biggest surprise was yet to come! He had an Emu. An Emu is a little smaller than an ostrich. The Emu has a very large neck; it was gray and black. The boys and girls were afraid of it.

Mr. Jensen has a few lemon and orange trees and also about three pomegranate trees. He said we could have all we wanted, so we did.

We thanked him for the pomegranates and for the nice time. Then we came back to school.

—Patricia Webber, 7th grade

A TRIP TO THE FINE ARTS GALLERY

Mr. Goodall's class went to the Fine Arts Gallery Tuesday, September 28, 1948. Mr. Robertson, the Assistant Director, was our guide.

We saw the Encyclopedia Britannica collection of 130 paintings by 130 of the leading artists in the United States.

Mr. Robertson, our guide, showed us some different paintings and told us about them and the names of the different artists that painted them. Some of the pictures liked the best were John Stewart Curry, Peter Hurd and many others.

Mr. Robertson also showed us the picture that was voted the most popular. The name if it was "March, North Atlantic" by Frederick Waugh.

After we had looked at all of the paintings we went up stairs and looked at some of the old paintings. They were from 100 to 500 years old and most of them were painted in European countries.

There were some beautiful tapestries also. When we had looked at them all we went downstairs and cast our vote for the picture we liked best.

We all had a nice time and later in school all the seventh grade children gave a nickel to buy a $5.00 Art Book.

"Gracious, my dear, another Saks original?"

A Talk With Parents

by L. E. McGee

Let's spend a little time this week on the future livelihood of our children, or how they are to earn their living. I hope my children are well adjusted in a job that pays them well and which they enjoy doing.

A working man spends a large percentage of his time earning a living and if his work pays him enough to support his family decently, and if he likes his work, he will be more likely to be happy and satisfied with his home, wife and family and therefore less likely to get a divorce, abuse his children and fight with his neighbors.

When a man comes home from work worn out and disgruntled, it doesn't take much at home to irritate him.

How can we fit our children into a job or profession which will satisfy the requirements mentioned? First, by spending some time with them we can discover the types of work that interest them and which they can do well.

Then comes a period of encouragement by hobbies, visits to establishments that do the kind of work they seem to prefer. Finally the children should be give an opportunity to train or study for that kind of employment that best suits him.

Help him with his problems in training or if you are unable, secure the assistance of people in that trade or profession.

Please don't make up your mind while Johnny is three that he is going to be a doctor or lawyer. Don't keep reminding him all through his growing years that you hope he will become a doctor or lawyer or that he will follow the same trade as his father follows.

Give him a chance to develop his own talents. He'll be glad you did and so will you.

Letters answered: Thanks, Mr. B. for the clipping from "Little Orphan Annie" as it appeared last Sunday. I'll be happy to repeat those words to my readers, as they follow very much the line of thought which many parents and educators are studying today. I will have a column on "Schools and Delinquency" soon after this present series is finished.

Friends, the words sent me by Mr. B. are by Samuel Johnson. They are: "There is now less flogging in our great schools than formerly, —But then, less is learned there; so that what the boys gain at one end, they lose at the other." Thanks.

I just had a visitor who came to protest part of my article in which I stated that I objected to Service parents whose children almost had to salute as they said "yes sir" and "no ma'am." Perhaps I didn't make myself clear. I was referring to a specific family with whom my family are well acquainted. The father is a Lieutenant in the Navy and his children are subject to the same discipline as enlisted men in his charge. I have other friends who do likewise.

Now I don't object to "yes sir", especially but I do object to children saluting or crawling and begging for kindness. Courtesy is almost a lost art and children should be taught to be polite, but let's keep these polite words spoken in a friendly rather than a servile manner.

Thanks for coming in and I honestly welcome criticism as well as praise and most of the reason for this column is to talk these things over. I'm not setting myself up as an expert. My experience in raising children and my work with Scouts, "Y" groups and ball teams, has been interesting and instructive. I'd like to compare my experiences with yours so we can all benefit and learn.

HERE FOR WINTER

Mr. and Mrs. George Anders of Comstock Park, Michigan, are spending the winter with their friend, Mrs. Cora Campbell of Costa Bella Street. The Anders have been here before and can't resist spending as much time as possible in Lemon Grove.

HOME NOW AFTER KNEE OPERATION

Mrs. V. A. Snider of Charles Street is home from the Naval Hospital after spending ten days there following an operation on her knee.

Heer mother, Mrs. Edith Bell of Ashland, Oregon, has arrived to spend a few days caring for her daughter.

In the mental collisions of mortals and the strain of intellectual wrestlings, moral tension is tested, and, if it yields not, grows stronger.

Before You Can Reach Your Doctor

by Dr. Frank Weege, D. C.

Onr topic for today deals with accidents happening very frequently and though minutes sometimes will decide between life or death, the public at large many times is helpless to do something about it. A plain and simple American word describes it as:

POISONING

Poisoning is caused by any agent capable of producing a morbid, noxious, or dangerous effect upon anything endowed with life. In cases of poisoning the suffering is so intense that the patient may collapse and the end-results are many times fatal.

If only one person is on hand to assist the patient it is far better to start emergency treatment before calling a doctor. If several by-standers are at the scene one should call a doctor immediately while someone else, the one best fitted, should employ emergency measures at once.

Once before I stated that in all emergency cases speed is of the greatest importance. In poisoning it is a "must". But do not misunderstand speed for haste; keep calm, know what you are trying to do and then do it speedily.

We must understand that poisoning can be caused by two distinct methods. It may be accidental, that is by making a mistake in selecting the wrong bottle or it may be brought on willfully, such as is done in attempts of suicide.

In the writer's opinion poisonous substances should not be dispensed as freely as they are and after possessing them they should not find any place in the home medicine chest. If they must be kept there they should be plainly marked "Poisonous" and should be kept out of the reach of children.

Cathartic pills, which in many cases contain some amount of strychnine, should be given to the children by their elders and only in such doses as the doctor prescribed them.

If despondent, depressed or otherwise mentally ill persons are in the family, special care must be taken to keep poisonous substances away from them as they have leanings toward a tendency to commit suicide.

The symptoms of poisoning are so numerous and the emergency treatments to be given differ so much according to the poison involved that we will give them alphabetically arranged somewhat later on.

If poisoning is evidenced it is always in first order to produce vomiting in the affected person in order to remove the poison from the stomach as quickly as possible. Next in place an emetic should be given and finally the antidote to counteract the effects of the poison.

The quickest way of producing vomiting can be accomplished by sticking your finger back in the throat of the poisoned. Someone else, if present, should prepare an emetic using 1 teaspoonful of powdered mustard to one glassful of water, or a glassful of warm, strong saltwater may be used.

A counter-active substance should be given with the emetic or right afterward. Some of them which are readily found in the house are: salad oil, flour, gruels, starch, white of egg, milk, cream and powdered charcoal.

After each vomiting repeat the emetic and antidote. Don't be stingy with them and in addition give several glasses of water. The point in mind is to empty the stomach as completely as possible. This being done quickly and energetically, stand by until the doctor arrives so you may tell him what you did.

You may not miss any of the poisons on your shelf so look around for any evidence near the place of accident. You may find a bottle, glass, or other container with some of the poison in it . If only a few drops, save them for the doctor. Just the smell of the poison used will help him to make a quick diagnosis.

It is always good practice to keep the patient warm; while in a few cases this is not absolutely necessary, in most instances it is of great importance. Cover your patient with blankets or clothing of some kind and apply artificial heat to the body

This can easily be accomplished by using heated bricks or sandbags, hot water bottles, etc., but great care must be exercised not to burn the patient. Many times he will be unconscious and therefore does not complain.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Duncan and daughter Nanette of Cove, Arkansas, arrived last week for the wedding of their son, Russell Duncan. He was married to Miss Theresa Leon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pedre Leon of Mexico City.

They were married at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in San Diego, and had a reception at the U. S. Grant Hotel.

The newlyweds left for a motor trip along the coast. After the honeymoon they will go to San Antonio, to live.

Mrs. Duncan reports her husband feels much better in the Arkansas climate, but she is not so well and her daughter Nanette would much prefer living in Lemon Grove again. The Duncans formerly owned a little ranch on San Miguel Street.

WILL VACATION

Mr. L. C. Campbell of Costa Bella Street has gone to Michigan to visit a brother, and will also visit another brother in Kansas.

They have purchased a large luxurious trailer and plan to leave soon on a tour of the country. They will go first to Arizona, then to Texas for a time.

Gradually they will make the trek to New Orleans and into Florida. They plan to stop just wherever fancy leads. By spring they expect to stop in West Virginia, where an apartment is waiting for them.

The Dellingers have sold their home on Central to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Killman on University Avenue, who will move here soon.

Central Avenue friends wish the Dellingers bon voyage, hoping they will return to visit occasionally.

'Thunderhoof' Marks Milestone In Picture Making

When Columbia's "Thunderhoof" opens at the Grove Theatre Friday, a milestone in motion picture production will be celebrated. The story is said to be a power-charged yarn dealing with two men and a woman alone in the trackless sands of the Mexican desert. But what makes this picture so significant is the fact that is marks the first time in screen history that an entire production has been made with only three living persons in its cast

The featured players are Preston Foster, Mary Stuart and William Bishop. A handsome black and white pinto, Thunderhoof, has the title role.

Hal Smith's original screenplay, with additional dialogue credited to Kenneth Gamet, recounts the adventures of the trio in their search for a fabulous wild horse. After his capture, the film follows their hazardous trek from the Mexican wilderness, through windswept desert to the Texas border. Foster and Miss Stuart, as husband and wife, are aided somewhat unwillingly by Bishop in their hunt. Bishop, who owes his life to Foster, is in love with his frend's wife and repays his debt by stealing her affections.

Open conflict soon flares between the two men, and the suspense- filled climax is said to rank as one of the dramatic highlights of the season.

Produced by Ted Richmond, "Thunderhoof" was directed by Phil Karlson.

The second Grove feature will be "Old Los Angeles."

Western Stores To Open Branch Here

Latest new business to enhance the commercial district of Lemon Grove, will be a local branch of the Western Stores, which will be located at 7820 Broadway.

This makes more than a dozen new businesses either opened in the past five weeks or announced intentions of opening.

RETURNED WEDNESDAY FROM VACATION TRIP

CAMP FIRE GIRL NEWS

The ADAKA Camp Fire group of eighth grade girls had a very interesting lesson on flower arrangement by Mrs. R. E. Brahs of Lemon Grove, a member of the Spring House Garden Club.

Each girl had an opportunity to use her ability in creating her own arrangements.

A group of the girls and two of their leaders, Mrs. Close and Mrs. Teach, will go to Collier Park and make some flower arrangements on Friday next, to be displayed at the flower show on Saturday and Sunday afternoons by the Spring House Garden Club in Collier Park.

The Happy Hour Blue Birds had the fun of cutting out cardboard stars which were to be gilded and used for decorations at the charity ball to be given Saturday night at Hotel Del Coronado for the benefit of the crippled children's fund.

They were told how they were helping to brighten the lives of others by doing their little part.

The meeting was concluded by a Hallowe'en story.
